OILED AGAIN!

I enjoyed the "Scene We'd Like to See" on the back cover of MAD #290, which showed Exxon's Chairman receiving his just desserts. I would like to share another form of comeuppance for him. If there is such a thing as reincarnation, then Exxon's Lawrence Rawl could live another life as a seal, otter, whale, salmon, eagle, porcupine or other living thing that makes its home in Prince William Sound!

Ruth F. Block
New York, NY

Ruth—We were thinking of something a bit more apropos, say, a snokel—Ed.

Out of sheer curiosity, whose office did you ruin in order to create your Exxon Oil poster, which one of you infuses got splattered with the oil, how long did it take to clean up afterwards, and do you honestly think the process was worth one lousy mini-poster?

Jeff Simmons
New York, NY

Fa fa fa! Excellent, insightful, thought provoking and probing questions! Unfortunately, due to space limitations, we can only answer one of them. Of course, if we hadn't written all this, we probably could have answered them all! Anyway, with regard to the office cleanup, the job is about 10% done, which by Exxon's standards means we're finished!—Ed.

PARENTAL PROS AND CONS
PART II

It is my pleasure to renew my son's subscription to your magazine. There are so many useless items on the market today which I refuse to pay good money for... but I have always enjoyed your useless magazine! I am glad my son has a chance to grow up reading MAD. It gives him a chance to understand the idiocy of our modern world! Besides, what else is there for a kid to do in Topeka?

Mrs. Shore
Topeka, KS

Come on, Topeka's a wonderful city! As a matter of fact, MAD artist Paul Coker was born and lives just a stone's throw from Topeka, so if you ever see him, throw a stone at him!—Ed.

My son, David, has started to receive your TRASH magazine. We DO NOT appreciate this TRASH in our home. We have no idea who "gifted" this to him, nor do we care. DO NOT SEND ANY MORE ISSUES TO OUR SON OR OUR HOME.

Mr. and Mrs. McCann
Urbansdale, IA

Note to our readers—We have never heard of the McCanns. Whoever is "gifting" them... KNOCK IT OFF!—Ed.

"POLITICALLY INSPIRED DOLLS"

I am writing to inform you of the libel of Columbia University (my alma mater) in MAD #290. In the article "MAD's Politically Inspired Dolls," you refer to the Columbian Cocaine Kingpin Doll. Perhaps you were referring to the nation of Columbia, an infamous source of such "kingpins." I expect a retraction to clear the good name of Columbia!

William Wilson
Cambridge, VT

We have carefully researched this matter and we stand by our story!—Ed.

Myself and fellow Canadians were extremely upset when runner Ben Johnson's gold medal was removed at the 1988 Seoul Olympics, but you Americans do not need to rub our noses in it! Ben is still the fastest man in the world, steroids or not! I speak on behalf of all Canadians when I say, BITE ME, CARL LEWIS!

Luke Pigeon
Alberni, Canada

Luke—We passed your letter along to Carl, but he was unable to answer... He was too busy polishing his Olympic GOLD MEDAL... You know, the one Ben doesn't have! Fa fa fa!—Ed.

G.I. JOKE

How dare you make fun of basic training ("A MAD Look At Basic Training") in MAD #290! My dad is in the U.S. Army and I happen to know that it is nothing like your version. You imbeciles! You'll be hearing from me again!

Chad Rodriguez
Huntsville, AL

It just so happens that our Publisher, William "Blood 'n Guts" Gaines, served with your father, Chad Sr., during the invasion of Turkey... oh, wait a minute, change that—Bill was served Turkey during the invasion of Chad! Go figure. That's the Army for you!—Ed.

STAMP OF APPROVAL

Earlier this year, MAD's master artist Jack Davis was asked by the U.S. Postal Service to draw a postage stamp honoring its letter carriers. This is what it looks like. Great work, Jack! People unable to afford the 25¢ stamp can get the same effect by licking the back of Jack's art appearing in MAD!

"CUT-AWAY
CROSS SECTIONS"

I just looked at your "Cut-Away Cross Sections of Everyday Items" in MAD #290. How the heck did you get into my backpack and hall closet?

Brian "Thunder" Dunsafete
Depew, NY

It was easy, Brian. We just made a left turn at your kitchen! (For your humor buffs, the preceding was classic old joke #64395 B!)—Ed.

MORON MAIL

I bought MAD for a camping trip and it worked great! I used it to scare mosquitoes, for fanning myself on hot days and for starting our campfire. Thank you for your useful magazine!

Trevor Perr
New Brunswick, Canada

T-Trevor, we're happy to know that MAD can also be enjoyed by humorless illiterate yahoos whose idea of a good time is sleeping outdoors in a damp, slug-infested mildewed tent! Thanks for getting someone to write for you! —Ed.

Those goofy seniors at Lakeside High School in Atlanta, GA, asked us for permission to allow their yearbook to look like an issue of MAD. We said sure, figuring that good taste would prevail and they wouldn't do it, but they did! Above are the cover and contents page. Congrats, grads!

HITS 3, MAD 0

HITS magazine, the respected (?) recording industry trade journal used MAD's own Alfred E. Neuman on the cover of their recent third anniversary issue! Hey, we have to put Alfred on our covers. Why HITS would do it voluntarily is anyone's guess!

FAT FARM REPORT

I just wanted to send you a picture of the REAL Howard Stern to prove to you that my nose isn't as big as shown in your article "MAD Visits a Fat Farm." How DARE you print such an exaggeration! I've been a fan of your magazine ever since you put me in an article.

What's the feel-good hit of the summer movies? Who cares?! Summer's over!! But there was a film vying for the top spot with a weird idea—it thought that reducing kids to the size of the Cheerio's molecule would make a good comedy! Unfortunately, the thing that really got reduced was our patience! Just try sitting still for 90 minutes while microscopic pre-teens get chased by a giant scorpion! Then you'll be ready to agree with us that it's not...

Gee, honey, you've finally got your atomic shrinking machine working! I see you were able to shrink our car down to just a few inches!

That's my toy car, Mom! Dad blew up our real one! Maybe he can get his machine to shrink the $8,000 repair bill from the auto mechanic!

You know, Dad, you're lucky you were born a nerd so you can have a beautiful, intelligent wife like all the other nerds in movies do, 'cause as an inventor, you suck!

Not so fast! Some of my gadgets work! My automatic lawn mower does a pretty good job!

Yeah, but it was supposed to be a kitchen food processor!

Well, someday my atomic shrinking machine will work and then people will sit up and take notice!

Yeah, maybe the people who make hemorrhoid cream! Brain, you're an even worse neighbor than you are an inventor! You can't even train your dog! All it does is bark day and night!

Sure I bark a lot! I have to to get food from Brain's stupid feeding gadgets! Why can't I get food like a normal dog—from a bowl or trash can?

FUNNY TO SHRINK THE KIDS

ARTIST: MORT DRUCKER

WRITER: DICK DEBARTOLO

Leave it to the Disney Studio to make even an ordinary backyard ant appear cute, sensitive, and lovable!

That's how Disney started out! He "cute-fied" a disgusting mouse and made himself a zillion dollars!

Let's all stop talking about it! I don't want to hurt the feelings of this adorable cockroach!

You know, when you get right down to it, these yucky bugs have more personality than the people in this movie!

THE BIGGER THE BETTER!

Run for it! Someone tossed out a cigarette butt!

More bad luck! Why couldn't we have landed in the "no-smoking" section of your backyard!

Hmm, this entire plot's a little too close to the "Incredible Shrinking Woman" movie I did years ago! I wonder if a "tiny" lawsuit's in order here...

My chair! My couch! They've shrunk down to nothing! I know the workmanship on products today is bad, but this stuff is absolute garbage!

Unless my machine did work! Which means the kids are shrunk, too! I've heard of parents making their kids feel small, but I must have just set a new world's record! And speaking of garbage—the kids must have been swept up in it!

THE MAD GUIDE TO NEW COMPUTER GAMES

Jordan's vs Bird's: Agents One on One

It's "tip-off" time as legal representatives of rival NBA superstars Michael Jordan and Larry Bird square off in a run-holds-barred scramble to garner commercial endorsements for their clients!

Agents One on One lets you ink the deals that make sports fans drool, deals that no three-point shot or slam-dunk can match. You decide when to renegotiate and when to "take the money and run." You decide whether to go for the ultimate—your client's face on the Wheaties box—or sink to the oblivion of beer commercials!

With mega-bucks at stake, only the juiciest endorsements will do! [Morphic Arts]

Where in the World is Carmen Sandiego's Luggage?

Mystery woman Carmen Sandiego is on the loose again, and her baggage is popping up at airports around the world!

Her cosmetics case is smashed in Sweden. Her carry-on, mashed in Morocco. Her overnighter, bashed in Brazil. And Carmen herself? She's stranded in New York with runs in her stockings, wrinkles in her suit, and a fistful of baggage claim tickets in her sweaty palm!

It's up to you to figure out what Carmen's up to, where she's heading next, and how many overbooked flights she'll be bumped from before she's finally on her way. More importantly, what in the world will she wear if you're unsuccessful in reuniting her with her luggage?? [Bound & Gagged]

WRITER: MATTHEW T. SMITH

Larry's caught with his pants down this time—and the joys of fatherhood are hitting him where it hurts!

Now our polyester-clad hero is a hunted man, chased by everyone from private investigators to process servers, from child custody case workers to his ex-girlfriend's shotgun-toting father!

With the right kind of help, Larry might still shirk the responsibilities of parenthood—and find a good time along the way. Without it, this lounge lizard is one endangered species! For adults of all ages only. [See Error]

King's Digest XIV: Perils of Mozzarella

The latest time-wasting interactive adventure in the King's Digest series!

Can you help Princess Mozzarella and her sidekick Pepto rescue the Green Goddess from the evil Kitchen Magician? Or will you all be sliced, diced, and cast into the Pit of Indigestion?

Sound far-fetched? You bet

but if reality was so great, you wouldn't blow thirty bucks on a computer game anyway! Be warned, though—with 20 disks of endless options, a 700-page instruction manual, and a cast of thousands, Perils of Mozzarella is a mouthful—and not for the weak of stomach! [See Error]

THE MAD WEEK

ARTIST: PAUL COKER

WRITER: CHARLIE KADAU

ON SUNDAYS...

...You stay out late to miss the end-of-weekend traffic jam, only to wind up in a traffic jam of other people who stayed out late for the same reason.

...At about 10:30 p.m. you decide it's time to start working on your weekend homework assignment.

...You add the six sections you "still haven't gotten to" to the pile of Sunday newspaper sections you still haven't gotten to from the past 18 weeks.

ON WEDNESDAYS...

...You step out your door and finally find where the paperboy threw Monday's newspaper.

...You make the unbelievable discovery that every bookstore in town is sold out of the Cliff's Notes of the novel you haven't read a page of yet, but have to hand in a book report on by Friday.

...You make a silent pledge to yourself that by the end of this week you'll finish all the work you had pledged to finish by the end of last week.

ON THURSDAYS...

...At about 4:30 a.m., the sound of garbage trucks reminds you that you didn't put the trash out the night before.

...You finally get up enough nerve to ask someone for a date on Saturday night, only to discover they made other plans yesterday.

...You remember that you still haven't returned the video you rented that was due back last Monday.

ON MONDAYS...

...Five minutes before you have to be at work, it comes to your attention that you forgot to click back on your alarm clock from the weekend.

...Because you never got around to doing the laundry you have to fish underwear out of the hamper.

...You step out your door to discover that the weather is a lot better than it was all weekend.

ON TUESDAYS...

...You start your day by realizing you only have enough cash left for carfare or lunch—but not both—until payday on Friday.

...At work, you enter that in-between period when people stop asking "How was your weekend?" but have yet to start asking "So what are you doing this weekend?"

...The mailman finally delivers your copy of last week's TV Guide.

ON FRIDAYS...

...You get an agonizing, throbbing toothache in the early evening—just as your dentist is leaving his office for a 3-day weekend.

...For the umpteenth Friday in a row, you don't know or care who ABC News is planning to choose as its "Person of the Week."

...For the first time all week, you can stay up as late as you want—but you get drowsy and fall asleep at your regular time anyway.

ON SATURDAYS...

...While standing in line at the checkout counter you discover that all the coupon specials you clipped out of last Sunday's supermarket circular are now out-dated.

...Dozens of nuisance chores once again prevent you from watching the hours and hours of video tapes you've recorded over the last two months.

...You make it a point to get home in time to catch "Saturday Night Live" only to be disappointed by the show yet again.

SIX MINUTES LOOKS AT... SMOKING

"WHICH IS ABOUT HOW MUCH YOUR LIFE IS SHORTENED EVERY TIME YOU SMOKE A CIGARETTE!"

Cigarettes are one of the most important weapons in our war against Communism!

That's crazy! How do you figure that?

We ship tons of cigarettes with no warning labels to Russia! It's cheaper than bombs and gets the same results!

But we do the same to our allies, like Japan!

That's how we get them back for screwing Americans out of jobs by making cheaper, more efficient cars and computers!

Sir, it's a fact smoking causes cancer. I know you teach a Bible class. What do you tell your students about cigarettes?

I tell 'em if the Lord didn't want us to smoke, He wouldn't have given us tobacco!

But the same can be argued about marijuana!

No way! Marijuana plants are Satan's flower gardens!

Ed, tobacco has played an important part in our history. Columbus discovered it and George Washington himself said we owe our freedom to tobacco, 'cause tobacco money helped finance the Revolutionary War. And even today the tobacco industry is dedicated to doing patriotic acts!

What patriotic acts?!

Makin' sure politicians like me keep gettin' re-elected! Now that's what I call patriotic!

This is Harry Unreasonable. I'm at the advertising agency of Subliminal, Hard-sell and Greed. Cigarette commercials have been banned from TV since 1971, but tobacco companies still spend two billion dollars a year on advertising! You know smoking causes 500,000 deaths a year so why do you handle tobacco accounts?

Harry, I can think of two billion reasons!

Your ads always show beautiful, sexy ladies and rugged, handsome guys doing all sorts of macho stuff. These are the very things that appeal to teenagers!

The tobacco companies need young replacements for smokers who kick the habit!

Yeah, and for smokers who kick the bucket!

This is Meredith Vieairhead. I'm interviewing one of the world's most famous smokers, Morton Clowney, Jr.

Why did they send a broad? I thought I was going one on one with that wimp, Mike Malice!

Sorry, Mike's out on another assignment.

That sounds like a bunch of crap to me! That banana barfing creep is probably too much of a chicken to go to the mat with me! Hey, on second thought, baby, it will be a lot more fun pinning you!

I'm All Grungy, husband, dad and head of the Grungy family, even though everyone always dumps on me. And speaking of "dumps," I hope you're ready for a "load" of bathroom humor, 'cause like most episodes of this show, that's all we have to sustain us for the next 30 minutes!

I'm Pig Grungy, and as usual my husband is wrong! We never sustain 30 minutes of any kind of humor! And as for All, he can't sustain it for 30 seconds! See? We don't just have low-level bathroom humor, we also have low-level bedroom humor! In fact, with All's lovemaking techniques, the bedroom is where I laugh the most!

I'm Dud Grungy, and I say you can forget about low-level jokes around here. Because if you've been watching this show since it went on the air, you've seen something really distasteful and unpleasant—me, a child actor going through puberty!

I'm Belly Grungy, and I'm a bit on the stupid side! But I'm not your typical dumb blonde. I brag about dying my hair! But I also play a character who's matured and grown! Over two seasons, I've gone from a 15-year-old tramp to a 17-year-old slut!

We're the Grungy's yuppie next door neighbors, Peeve and Farcy. You know, Peeve, we've lived next door for two years and there's something I still don't get!

What's that, Farcy?

If Pig doesn't like to cook or clean or keep house, and All doesn't like to have sex with his wife, why'd they get married?

Simple, so they could be more like every other American couple!

I'm the Grungy's dog. Buck! I don't want to say I live with a gross family, but I have fewer accidents on the rug than All does!

"If you can't say anything good, don't say anything at all." That's a fine idea, but it doesn't work in Hollywood! The pitiful truth is, the lousier the film, the more vigorously its studio promotes it with windbag press releases and misleading ads. In fact, this promo copy is often more creative than the film it plugs! That's why we say Hollywood's most imaginative writing isn't on the screen, it's in the
